THE MITCHELL MEDLEY

(Battle Hymn of the Mitchells)

(Tune: Battle Hymn of the Republic)

In England, Wales and Scotland, and the Emerald Isle as well,
In U. S. A. and Canada, in city, plain and dell,
Where English tongue is spoken—that is where the Mitchells dwell.
The clan goes marching on!

Glory to the name of Mitchell!
Glory to the tribe of Mitchell!
Sa-pi-ens qui as-si-du-us!
The clan goes marching on!

(Tune: Annie Laurie)

Christopher, Dave and Sir Andrew
Were fathers of our clan;
Andrew was the King's Scotch Chaplain;
Nathan was a minute man;
David was a Governor;
Many Mitchells died at sea;
Stephen was U. S. Chief Justice;
Mitchells—they were proud to be!

(Tune: Dixie)

When you're with the Southern Mitchells meeting
You'll enjoy a happy greeting.
You will stay, every day, all the way, in Dixie Land.
Dixie Mitchell wives are good at cooking,
Mitchell girls are sure good-looking.
Yes, I know it is so; let us go, to Dixie Land.
Yes, the Mitchells of Old Dixie
Are true, and do
Extend their hands to Mitchell kin
To welcome and their hearts win.
Oh yes, God bless
Our kinsmen of dear Dixie;
Welcome, Mitchell,
Our cousins of Old Dixie.

(Tune: Auld Lang Syne)

There are a "million" Mitchells in
This world—and maybe more—
But we believe we all are kin
As Mitchells were of yore.

So let each Mitchell neighbor be
Your "cousin" and your friend.
Your hand of hospitality
Should to them all extend.

(A) INTRODUCTION

The Mitchell Family is among the forty-nine "best families" selected by the American Historical-Genealogical Society for whom the Society has published family histories during the past few years.

The Mitchell Family has been prominent in the British Empire and in the United States, its members having played important roles in war and in peace. Family pride is a commendable trait and should be cultivated. All Mitchells have just cause to be proud of their family history and traditions.

In references No. 7 and No. 14 we find the following regarding the origin and meaning of the name Mitchell:

The family name of Mitchell, in some instances, may have originated from the Anglo-Saxon "mycel," meaning great or nickle (that is, much), but in most cases it is supposed to be a Norman name from the Hebrew "Michael," which means "one who is like God."

In confirmation of the derivation of the name, Mitchell, from Michael, it may be noted that the Mitchells of Midlothian, Scotland, sometimes spelled the name "Mitchael" and in England "Michal," the latter being identical with the feminine form of the name Michael, which was bestowed upon the younger daughter of Saul.

On very ancient records we find the name spelled "Micahel," "Michel," "Mikael," "Michilson" and "Michell."

Geoffry Michel, of Great Britain, was a manucaptor in 1302. Michelia is the name of a genus of plants.

There are twenty-four British crests for the name Mitchell and sixty works containing Mitchell genealogy. There were fifty-seven Mitchell families in Connecticut in 1790 and some twenty persons of the name had served in the United States Congress before 1916.

The data in this volume is gathered from reliable sources. We have selected what we consider the most important material. Many of the daughters, and sons for whom no issue was shown, have been omitted from the pedigrees. A missing symbol indicates that a name has been omitted. Those desiring further information are advised to consult the volumes mentioned in the list of References.

The compiler hopes that, in producing this volume, he is bringing to the Mitchell Family information which will be of interest and value to them, and that he is rendering an important service to the public. He and his associates will be glad to give their co-operation to members of the family who are interested in having a complete genealogy of the family published.

Unless otherwise plainly shown, the persons in this volume whose names are accompanied by three figures are children of the immediately preceding persons bearing immediately preceding numbers. All persons in each group bearing the same letter as a part of their numbers are directly related. The generations of the descendants of those bearing numbers of three figures are represented as follows. However, some of our material is published as copied from various records without rearrangement according to this system.

Generations	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	5th
Symbols	(1), etc.	(A), etc.	(a), etc.	1, etc.	A, etc.
Generations	6th	7th	8th	9th	10th
Symbols	a, etc.	(I), etc.	(i), etc.	I, etc.	i, etc.

Abbreviations: add., address; b., born; ch., children; coll., college; d., died; d. y., died young; d. w. i., died without issue; dau., daughter; grad., graduated; l., lives, lived; m., married, moved; s., sons, succeeded; d. s. p., died without issue; d. v. p., died before father; univ., university.

(B) THE MITCHELL COAT OF ARMS

A Coat of Arms is an emblem or a device which is displayed by titled persons, persons of royal blood, and their descendants. Coats of Arms were originally used for purposes of identification and recognition on the field of battle as well as in civil life.

It is claimed by some writers that Coats of Arms, in a crude form, were used by Noah's sons after the flood. There are records of other Coats of Arms, in one crude form or another, at different periods of ancient history. Heraldry, however, as we know it today, did not become of much importance until soon after the invasion of England by William the Conqueror, A. D. 1066. Heraldry became of general interest at about the time of the Crusades.

The Mitchell Coat of Arms shown in the front of this volume is the Arms of the Mitchells of Scotland. Several other great Mitchell families use Coats of Arms very similar to it. Numerous branches of the Mitchell family have Coats of Arms resembling it.

This is the most widely used of all Mitchell Coats of Arms. It is described in Betham's BARONETAGE, BURKE'S GENERAL ARMORY, BURKE'S LANDED GENTRY, BURKE'S PEERAGE AND BARONETAGE and other reliable works on heraldry, in some cases accompanied by illustrations. It has been used for generations by many American branches of the Mitchell family.

	HERALDIC LANGUAGE	ENGLISH DESCRIPTION
Arms	Sable a fesse between three muscles or within a bordure chequy of the last and first.	On a black shield a golden band between three diamond-shaped figures, also of gold. The shield within a chequered border of black and gold.
Crest	A stalk of wheat with three ears.	Same
Motto	Sapiens qui assiduus (Latin).	He is wise who is assiduous.

Sir Bernard Burke, of Heralds College, London, said: "Heraldry is prized by all who can show honorable ancestry or wish to found honorable families."

Besides its family significance this Coat of Arms makes an excellent mural decoration and inspires the admiration and comment of all who see it.

It is quite appropriate that members of the Mitchell family who have a pride in their ancestry should display the family Coat of Arms, in proper colors.

(I) PROMINENT MITCHELLS OF AMERICA, PAST GENERATIONS

ALEXANDER MITCHELL: Financier; b. near Ellon, Scotland, 1817. Was first commissioner of the Milwaukee debt commission, 1861 until his death, in 1887, and its present high financial standing is the result of his influence. Was president of many companies; president, director or trustee of many local institutions, and the richest man in Northwest.

DAVID: Soldier; b., Cumberland Co., Pa., 1742; fought throughout entire Revolutionary War; in May, 1800, was appointed brigadier general of the militia of Cumberland and Franklin Counties, Pa.

DAVID BRADIE: Lawyer; b., Scotland, 1766; came to Savannah, Ga., 1783, to take possession of property left him by his uncle, David Bradie; served in the Georgia Legislature, and upon the completion of his term as Governor was appointed United States agent to the Creek Indians, with whom he concluded a treaty. He was much interested in the cause of public education.

ELISHA: Educator; b., Washington, Conn., 1793; was professor of chemistry, mineralogy and geology in North Carolina College from 1825 until his death, in 1857. He held the office of surveyor of the State and visited its principal mountains—discovering that Black Dame is the highest point east of the Rockies, and losing his life by a fall over a precipice there.

HINCKLEY GILBERT: Clergyman; b., Lee, N. Y., 1846; studied at the University of Leipsic, where in 1879 he received the degree of Ph.D. He was for many years a professor in Boston University.

JAMES C.: Lawyer; b., Mecklenburg Co., N. C., about 1790; served two terms in Congress, where his eccentric humor made him popular. Before removing to Hinds Co., Miss., where he engaged in agriculture and local politics, he was circuit judge in Tennessee.

JAMES TYNDALE: Jurist; b., Belleville, Ill., 1834. In 1875 he was transferred from the judgeship of the District Court of Philadelphia to the bench of the Court of Common Pleas. He was vice-provost of the Law Academy of Philadelphia and president of the council of the Pennsylvania Historical Society.

JOHN: Physician; b. in England, settled in Urbana, Va., about 1700; acquired an international reputation through his research in botany; wrote many articles on American flora, etc. He was the author of "Essay on the Causes of Different Colors of People in Different Climates," in the "Transactions" of the Royal Society.

JOHN HIPPLE: Senator; b., Washington Co., Pa., 1835; was corporation attorney, Portland, Ore., 1861. He was afterward elected to the State Senate, becoming its presiding officer. His law practice included lucrative connections with western railroads, gaining for him a large fortune.

JOHN INSCHO: Senator; b., Tioga, Pa., 1888; was district attorney of Tioga Co., 1868-71; in 1870 edited The Tioga County Agitator. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature; was several times elected to Congress and later served as United States Senator.

JOHN KEARSLEY: Physician; b., Shepherdstown, Va.; grad. University of Pennsylvania Medical School, 1819; became professor of chemistry at the Philadelphia Medical Institute, 1826, was appointed to chair of chemistry at Franklin Institute, 1833; held chair as professor of theory and practice of medicine in Jefferson Medical College until his death, at Philadelphia, 1858.

JONATHAN: Clergyman; b., Halifax, Eng., 1624. After ordination at Cambridge, Mass., 1650, he succeeded Thomas Shepard as pastor there. The adoption by the synod that met in Boston of the so-called "halfway covenant" was largely due to his influence.

MARGARET JULIA: Actress; b., New York, N. Y., 1832; became known as "Maggie Mitchell." She played child's parts in the old Bowery Theater and made her first appearance in Philadelphia at the Chestnut Street Theater in 1854, where she played Constance in "Love's Chase." She made extensive tours of the country and acquired a large fortune.

NABRUM: Jurist; b., E. Bridgewater, Mass., 1769; served in both houses of the Massachusetts Legislature and also in Congress. As a financial, cultural and religious force he exerted great influence throughout the State.

PETER: Canadian statesman; b. Newcastle, N. B., 1824. After serving five years in the New Brunswick Parliament he was appointed a life member of the legislative council; served as Senator and as Minister of Marine and Fisheries in the Cabinet under Sir John A. MacDonald until 1873; was several times a member of the Canadian Parliament, and was active in operations connected with the establishment of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

ROBERT B.: Lawyer; b., Richland Co., O., 1823; mem. Kansas Legislature, 1857-58, and Treasurer, 1858-61; served in Civil War as brigadier general of Volunteers; participated in the Battle of Perryville, in command of the 13th Division of General Buell's Army. After completing a term as Governor of New Mexico, he resided in Washington, D. C.

SAMUEL AUGUSTUS: Geographer; b., Bristol, Conn., 1792. After attaining reputation as a teacher, he lived in Philadelphia for forty years—making, revising and improving his various geographies, atlases and maps.

SAMUEL THOMAS: Educator; b., Toledo, O., 1851; was president of Free University at Xenia, O., and, in 1875, of the Missouri State Teachers' Association. He was a mem. of the general conference of the African M. E. Church, 1884, and founded the present educational system of that denomination.

SILAS WEIR: Physician and author; b., Philadelphia, Pa., 1829; s. of Dr. John Kearsley; educated at University of Pennsylvania and grad. from Jefferson Medical College, 1850. He was the author of many papers on physiological research; was associated with several hospitals, and was president of the Philadelphia College of Physicians. He received many honorary scholastic degrees; was either member or fellow of numerous learned societies and academies; wrote novels that are still widely read.

STEPHEN MIX: Jurist; b., Wethersfield, Conn., 1743; served in several Connecticut judgeships and in the United States Congress and Senate.

DONALD GRANT (grandson of Stephen Mix): Author; b., Norwich, Conn., 1822; was a correspondent of The Albany Cultivator, one of the judges of industrial art at the Centennial Exposition of 1876 and United States commissioner at the Paris exposition of 1878.

WILLIAM: Clergyman; b., Chester, Conn., 1793; he removed to Texas, 1859, and had charge of churches in Casa Blanca and Corpus Christi.

JOHN (bro. of William): Clergyman; b., Chester, Conn., 1794. After serving as pastor in Fair Haven, Conn., and Northampton, Mass., he traveled abroad and then settled in Stratford, devoting himself to literary pursuits. In later years he was a mem. of the Connecticut Legislature.

WILLIAM: Astronomer; b., Nantucket, Mass., 1791; became cashier of the Pacific Bank there and, equipping an observatory, made systematic determinations in connection with the United States coast survey. He received the degree of A.M. from Brown in 1848 and from Harvard in 1860, being overseer of the latter university for several years. Was a mem. of scientific societies.

MARIE (dau. of William): Astronomer; b., Nantucket, Mass., 1818. In October, 1847, she discovered a comet, besides finding small nebulae, for which she received medals from the King of Denmark and the Republics of San Marino. She was a member of the faculty of Vassar College and of many scientific societies—being the first woman to be elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

HENRY (bro. of Marie): Hydrographer; b., Nantucket, Mass., 1830; first discovered the underflow of the Hudson; held several government commissions to examine principal harbors along the Atlantic coast; was a mem. of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

(K) MITCHELL TOWNS, ETC.

There are in the United States towns as follows:

MITCHELL: Ark., Ga., Ill., Ind., Iowa, Kans., La., Nebr., Oregon, S. Dak., W. Va.; MITCHELL MILL: Calif.; MITCHELLS: Va.; MITCHELLSBURG: Ky.; MITCHELL STATION: Ala.; MITCHELLVILLE: Iowa, Md., Tenn. There are also in the United States numerous counties, townships, streets, avenues, etc., bearing the name "Mitchell." This is eloquent testimony to the high esteem in which the name is held in this country.

(L) MITCHELL CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES

The compiler of these records has made up a list from city and telephone directories of the United States, and from other sources, as follows. Care was taken to eliminate, wherever possible, persons known or believed to be colored, or of nationalities other than British and American:

Alabama	87	Maine	207	Oklahoma	191
Arizona	54	Maryland	264	Oregon	41
Arkansas	103	Massachusetts	832	Pennsylvania	1109
California	1211	Michigan	607	Rhode Island	131
Colorado	249	Minnesota	226	South Carolina	13
Connecticut	297	Mississippi	60	South Dakota	12
District of Columbia	245	Missouri	318	Tennessee	333
Delaware	36	Montana	86	Texas	661
Florida	214	Nebraska	76	Utah	96
Georgia	230	Nevada	6	Vermont	34
Idaho	47	New Hampshire	78	Virginia	210
Illinois	950	New Jersey	471	Washington	215
Indiana	485	New Mexico	16	West Virginia	114
Iowa	187	New York	1298	Wisconsin	115
Kansas	165	North Carolina	129	Wyoming	13
Kentucky	245	North Dakota	7
Louisiana	82	Ohio	890	Total	13,736

To secure an estimate of the "Mitchell population" of the United States, we figure as follows:

	(a) multiply by
Only about half the names were taken from each directory consulted	2
Half of the Mitchells reside in the rural districts or in small towns having no printed directories which were available to us	2
There is an average of more than four persons in each American family	4
Since Mitchell daughters marry and have as many descendants as the Mitchell sons, there are as many descendants of "other names" as there are bearing the name Mitchell (though it is much easier to locate the latter)	2
By multiplying each figure of column (a) into the preceding figure, we have a total of	32
Conservative estimate of the Mitchell population of the United States, one-half of whom bear the name Mitchell and one-half of whom bear other names	439,552

The estimated Mitchell population of any of the states may be obtained by multiplying the figures shown by 32. There are Mitchells in every state of the Union. The Mitchell population of the British Empire is probably equal to that in the United States.

(M) RELIGIONS OF THE MITCHELLS

For several centuries the Mitchells lived in Scotland, North Ireland, England and Wales. Most of the British (with the exception of those living in South Ireland) and, likewise, the Mitchells were and are of the Protestant faith.

There are a few Mitchells of the Catholic faith in the British Isles, but it is estimated that their number does not exceed ten per cent. of the entire Mitchell population.

The Mitchells who came from the British Isles to America continued in the faith of their fathers, for the most part, though their descendants in this country today will be found in the memberships of practically all the various churches. It is estimated that of all the Mitchells in America who are church members, at least eighty-five per cent. are of the Protestant faith.

Biographical sketches of 41 Mitchells appear in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA. Their religious faiths are shown as follows: BAPTIST, 2; CONGREGATIONALIST, 2; EPISCOPAL, 3; METHODIST, 1; METHODIST EPISCOPAL, 2; PRESBYTERIAN, 5; ROMAN CATHOLIC, 2; UNITARIAN, 1; other PROTESTANTS, 2; religion not stated, 21.
